

Muslims' Koran Fails Digigraph Tests

By Dr. Michael J. Bisconti

Since billions of people incorrectly believe that the Koran is the Word of God, we decided to see what God has to say about it. Now, we long ago had applied the Bible's teachings about divine authorship to the Koran and easily and clearly proved that the Koran is not the Word of God.

However, we felt that it was time for a far more thorough proof. To that end we applied both the standard set of digigraph principles (10,000) and, in a second test, the full set of digigraph principles (150,151 [see Major Digigraph Principles]). Both tests yielded the same results, though the second test, of course, carries far more weight.

Here are the results of the tests:

General Result

The general result, not at all surprising, is:

The Koran is not the Word of God.

Result Details

Here are the major result details of the tests;

1. The Koran stole 10% of its content from the Bible.
2. The god of the Koran is not the God of the Bible.
3. The god of the Koran is inconsistent, as demonstrated by many contradictory statements.
4. The god of the Koran is fickle, loving the entire human race one day then hating most of the human race the next day.
5. The god of the Koran is cruel and brutal to the weak.

There are many more result details but we believe we have provided enough for any sane person to see that the Koran is not the Word of God.
